

Judd A. Austin, Jr. is a shareholder in the Texas law firm of Henry Oddo Austin & Fletcher, PC. He was born in Mexico City, Mexico and is fluent in Spanish. Judd graduated cum laude from Wake Forest University where he received a Bachelor's of Arts degree in 1983. He attended law school at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, where he was a member of Phi Delta Phi, and was awarded his Doctor of Jurisprudence in 1987. He was admitted to the State Bar of Texas in 1987, and is also admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas, the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas, and the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. Judd specializes in the representation of Community Associations. Judd has represented community associations for over twenty-eight years and his practice is concentrated exclusively in the area of community association law. Judd served on the Board of Directors of the Dallas/Fort Worth Chapter of the Community Associations Institute (CAI), and served for 7 legislative sessions as a Delegate to CAI's Texas Legislative Action Committee. Judd was a founding member of the Texas Community Associations Advocates (TCAA), and served in that capacity for 4 legislative sessions. During the last legislative session Judd served as an ex-officio Director for TCAA. Judd was appointed to the Texas Supreme Court's Task Force in 2011 and 2013 established to formulate and revise Rules for Expedited Foreclosures under Rules 735 and 736 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure as they pertain to property owner associations. Judd has spoken at continuing legal education programs organized by the State Bar of Texas focusing on community association law.